

GENERAL TERMS OF SALE

1. CONTRACT FORMATION

1.1. Informations

Any indications given by Vauconsant of whatever the nature, including but not limited to prices, performance, technical features, dimension, or support whether in the form of a catalogue, technical documentations, oral or written information, or on any website are for illustrative purposes only.

1.2. Contract formation

In accordance with L441-6 article of the commercial law, these general conditions of sale constitute the legal basis of the agreement between us. Any order placed with Vauconsant is worth acceptance, without reserve, of these general conditions of sale, despite any contrary stipulations of the Purchaser, except any contrary particular provision has been expressly written and accepted by Vauconsant.

1.3. Responsibility for the final recipient

Insofar as the equipment purchased is professional electric and electronic equipments (WEEE) subject to the Decree n° 2005-829 of the July 20, 2005 transposing the directive 2002/96/CE from the January 27, 2003, it is agreed that the Purchaser holding this equipment will ensure, except if contrary to convention, the financing and the organization of the waste disposal resulting from this equipment, under the conditions defined in articles 21 and 22 of the aforesaid Decree. The Purchaser must in particular, in accordance with the Decree:

- ensure that the selected treatment, evaluation and destruction of the WEEE are carried out in installations fulfilling the lawful technical requirements
- ensure the appropriate treatment of the materials and components of the WEEE
- ensure that information concerning the disposal and the treatment of this waste will be transmitted to any later Purchaser

In the event needed by Vauconsant, the Purchaser will send to Vauconsant the documents establishing that it has fulfilled, for this equipment, all the obligations which have been transferred to him under the sale contract. If the Purchaser fails to send these documents, it will be deemed responsible for any non performance of the obligations, and Vauconsant will be entitled to an indemnity in respect of any damages for which it is liable because of this non performance.

2. RESEARCH - PROJECTS - DRAWINGS

2.1. Property

The studies and documents of any nature given or sent by Vauconsant always remain its sole property. Vauconsant completely reserves its intellectual property rights of its projects, which cannot be communicated, nor used without its prior written authorisation.

2.2. Responsibility

The Purchaser warrants to Vauconsant that the contents of the plans, drawings or models which it provides, do not use the intellectual property rights ownership or know-how of a third party and further warrants its capacity to use such contents without contravening a contractual or legal obligation.

The Purchaser agrees to indemnify Vauconsant in respect of the direct or indirect consequences of any action or civil or penal liability resulting in particular from a counterfeit action or an unfair competition action.

2.3. Obligation of the applicant

If Vauconsant would have engaged some research expenses especially on request, the applicant commits himself to pay the cost of this research if not followed by an order.

3. INSPECTIONS - TESTS - RECEPTION

3.1. Inspections - Controls

If the contract envisages it, the Purchaser has the right to carry out an inspection of the material during its manufacture, after agreement with Vauconsant in respect of the date of visit and the names of the representatives elected for this visit.

The contract sets of the extent of the inspections, controls and the programme.

3.2. Tests - Test prior delivery

If the contract envisages it, tests prior to delivery are carried out in the workshops or the warehouses of the manufacturer.

4. DELIVERY

Delivery is ex-works from our factory.

4.1. Transport - Insurance

The transport clauses are to be interpreted in accordance with the INCOTERMS of the International Chamber of Commerce in force at the day of the contract.

Except where expressly and in writing agreed to the contrary, whatever the destination and the conditions of sale, the delivery is considered complete when equipment is available in the factories or warehouses of Vauconsant. This date also marks the start of the period of guarantee.

The transfer of the risk takes place in the factories, depots or warehouses, even when the price includes assembly or re-assembly expenses on the customers site or when there are partial deliveries and whatever the indications stipulated on the purchase orders or invoices such as free delivery in station, on the junction, to quay, on residence, etc

Consequently the Purchaser or recipient bears the risk in the goods, even where they are dispatched "for free", and the Purchaser or recipient is responsible to obtain, under its own responsibility, all the necessary formalities to safeguard its rights in the event of transport damage or loss, and in particular to make all possible reserves (by correctly formulating them on the receipt of delivery) when receiving the goods.

The recipient or the Purchaser is invited to read carefully our delivery form. He has a 48 hours deadline from the receipt of the goods to issue detailed reserves, by registered letter with acknowledgement of delivery addressed to the conveyor (a copy has to be sent to Vauconsant). After this 48 hours period, the expenses of refunding and/or repairing will be on the recipient or the Purchaser.

We shall insist particularly on the importance of this procedure which is source of litigations when non respected, and invite our Purchasers to insist in the same way on their recipients and site managers (when delivery is made at their own customer address).

4.2. Material storage

If the direct handing-over of the material to the Purchaser is delayed for a cause beyond the control of Vauconsant, and if this last agrees to it, the material is stored and handled if it is necessary, on the expenses and risks of the Purchaser.

Vauconsant does not assume any responsibility for the losses or damages caused, except for those which are directly caused by itself or its employees. Any other responsibility is excluded.

4.3. Delivery period

Delivery times are purely indicative and therefore have no strict mandatory nature. The actual delivery time may vary depending on traffic conditions and other factors. The Buyer, in the event of non-compliance of delivery time or hours, is therefore not entitled to request the resolution or modification of the order.

The Purchaser, in the event of non-observance of the lead times, does thus not have the right to ask for the execution or the modification of conventions. If penalties have been agreed between the parties, those cannot be in any event, higher than 0,5 0/00 of the value of the contract (net of tax) of the material not delivered within the agreed lead time, per working day. of delay from the fourth week of delay, Vauconsant always profiting from a three week grace period. The total of the penalties can never exceed 5% of the total value (net of tax) of the material not delivered.

The compensation of the Purchaser for delay is thus ensured by the system of penalties, and has contractual, final, legal tender and is exclusive and in place of any other compensation.

Vauconsant is automatically released from any engagement relating to the delivery periods :

1. If the terms and conditions of payment have not been respected by the Purchaser.
2. If the information to be given by the Purchaser has been received at the appropriate time.
3. In case of major force or events, such as lockout, strike, epidemic, war, requisition, fire, flooding, machinery accident, rejection of the important parts being manufactured, interruption or delay in transportation or all other causes provoking a total or partial delay for Vauconsant or its suppliers, and more generally all causes independent of the will of Vauconsant. Vauconsant will use its best endeavours to keep the Purchaser informed, in good time, of the causes and events set out above.

4. The system of the penalties does not release the Purchaser of any of his contractual obligations, particularly those concerning the payments.

5. RETURNS

Items identified as "Made to order" on the Digital domain of the MATFER BOURGEAT Group cannot be returned or exchanged.

Any product return must be the subject of a formal agreement between the seller and the purchaser. Any product returned without this agreement would be made available to the purchaser and would not give rise to the establishment of a credit note. The costs and risks of return are always the responsibility of the purchaser.

Any request for return must be made within a maximum of five working days from the date of delivery of the goods. Returns of goods will only be authorized within a maximum period of 1 month from the invoice date.

In the event of cancellation after production has started, the fixed costs of up to 10% of the sale price of the equipment will be increased by all the costs incurred on the day of the cancellation (purchase of raw materials, supplies, hours of industrialization and Manufacturing).

Without prejudice to any other course of action, Vauconsant may oppose the Buyer with a refusal to sell and/or the cancellation or suspension of all orders in progress in the event of the Buyer's failure to comply with any of its obligations, in particular in the event of default or late payment, unless this Buyer provides sufficient guarantees or cash payment.

In accordance with Article L441-6 of the Commercial Code, any delay in payment will give rise, if the supplier sees fit, and from the first day of delay:

- The application of late payment interest equal to the most recent refinancing rate of the European Central Bank plus ten points (law on the modernization of the economy – LME - No. 2008-776 of August 4, 2008),

6.3 Requirements of guarantee and payment

Any deterioration of the credit of the Purchaser could justify the requirement of guarantees, or cash payment or payment by bank draft, before execution of the placed orders.

It will be in particular the case if a modification occurs in the Purchasers capacity, in his professional occupation (or if it is a company: in the Executive Managers or the status of the company), or if a transfer, lease, charge or mortgage, and has an unfavourable impact on the credit of the Purchaser.

7. GUARANTEES AND RESPONSIBILITY

7.1. Guarantee

Our products have a 6 months guarantee for the electric material (except the bulbs, indicators and fuses) and a 1 year guarantee for all the other materials. Within the guarantee, the Purchaser must send back to Vauconsant the defective parts. The return to Vauconsant of the parts considered to be defective will lead to a credit note or the sending of an identical part, other than any other allowance or damages. Transport and labour costs remain on the Purchaser. The Purchaser is advised to advise his custom-ers not to store equipment but intend to commission immediately after delivery, and this applies particularly for refrigerating and electric material. The guarantee does not extend to the usury caused in consequence of defects or of bad maintenance from the materials nor to the damage caused by the shocks or a misuse of the materials. The guarantee also excludes for incidents holding with fortuitous or force majeure cases, with causes which could not be identified, or ascribed to the action of the Purchaser for any:

Bad installation, facts related to the use (behaviour, maintenance not in conformity with the booklet of maintenance, unqualified personnel, etc.), modification of the equipment, repair carried out apart from the conditions specified hereafter, wear-parts, etc.

The responsibility of Vauconsant is strictly limited to the obligations defined above and it is of express convention that Vauconsant will be held with no compensation.

In any event, the civil liability for Vauconsant, on all causes except for the physical injuries and for fraud or the wilful default, will not exceed the total amount of the contract.
